To Whom It May Concern,

During the period from September, 1990 to June, 1991. Catherine Ross was the caregiver for my two children. At the time the children were aged 3 and 6. The three year old was with Catherine on a full day basis, while the 6 year old was cared for before and after school. During that time I found Catherine to be reliable, responsible, and caring in attending to the needs of my children. I felt comfortable in leaving the children in her care.

I changed to a new caregiver when I found someone who was closer to my home and thus more convenient.

sincerely,

Susan L. Perry
