With Extreme Prejudice;

To those whom may be under the impression it concerns them;

Regarding: Correspondence from myself, dated January 21, 2007, Offer to settle.

Vic Toews, Attorney General of Canada,
Michael Bryant, Attorney General of Ontario

July 21, 2007

It has been over six months since I outlined my position and general demand for major reparations in this pointless, unprovoked war that the state initiated against me, my family, my fellow citizens and civilization in general in correspondence dated January 21, 2007. Enough time has been granted for you to verify the veracity of my claims. If you are intelligent, a claim unsupported by any evidence, but assumed, you have already analyzed (and perhaps “lost”) all court records in this matter, further confirming the truth of my claims and that I am not saying anything new, my claims were (still are) fully supported by credible witnesses, including professionals and I have dealt honestly with the system from the beginning. You should also have determined that I am a member of the “reality based constituency” who, when offended, coupled with determination, courage and time, always wins against tyrants and whose historical accomplishments sum to what is called “civilization”. I define civilization as “the rules by which we co-operate for MUTUAL self-interest”. The “division of labor” rules thus far demanded of myself by the state are very similar to my ex-wife’s during marriage: I toil and be productive, you do what you want, steal, consume and destroy, with legislated irresponsibility falsely claimed to be the will of my fellow citizens.

In a futile attempt to save face, the Family (ir)Responsibility Office has chosen to restore my drivers license and suspend support payments. It has not yet been made clear whether or not the state is still under the impression that I owe any of the fake child support debt previously used as a pretext for theft and oppression. Thus, I still do not know whether or not I can keep the fruits of my labors or whether my person, papers or property are safe. Further, restoring my “permission” to drive deprived me of the amusement of standing in front of a judge, charged with driving without a license and having my very articulate daughters outline the basic absurdity of your position. I feel no gratitude, my drivers license was not yours to take. It is my property, earned by proving my competence and retained by my driving responsibly and not being a hazard to my fellow citizens on the road.

My position of refusal to file personal tax returns still stands until I and my family have been fully compensated for the crimes that the state has perpetrated against us. Until this happens, by past behavior, I can only assume that the full resources of the state are deployed to continue to seek my demise, enslavement or incarceration. Besides, in the final analysis, it is the state which is in an arrears position, due to depriving me of all tax benefits and considerations due to parents for children. These funds have instead gone to my ex-wife and, for the most part, been recouped by the state in alcohol and other “sin” taxes.

Since the state has made no significant response to my previous correspondence in this pointless war, other than restoring my driver’s license and suspending child support garnishments (legal “theft” using false pretexts), it appears you have chosen to deprive me of the strategic legal advantage of again being on the defensive. No matter, I have had eight years of myself and daughters being trapped in a destructive marriage with no fair exit, thirteen years of my lawful rights to participate as a contributing member of society by raising my daughters properly, pursuing my career and interests being blocked and frustrated. I have used this enforced idleness well to determine exactly how I will defeat those whom are under the false impression that I or any intelligent person can or should be enslaved in service of whatever “pretext of the day” is falsely claimed to be “necessary” for “the greater good”. I give you fair warning that whatever you choose, apart from agreeing with the facts and yielding what I demand in compensation, you lose. It is my policy not to engage in direct conflict until I have either already won or know how to win. The main reason you will not accept this is that you suffer the mistaken impression that my foolish fellow citizens trust you and will willingly tolerate the cost of predatory lawyers further becoming rich by legally “proving” that equality of treatment under law (equality in terms of rights and responsibilities) is a quaint, obsolete idea of our primitive (but far wiser) ancestors. Suppressing this basic legal point is and always has been “necessary” for tyrants as part of longstanding historical efforts legitimizing “rule by divide and conquer”, under the claimed benevolent despotism of our self-proclaimed “betters” who do so by creating conflict between artificially created legal “classes”, each class with different legal rights and responsibilities and the illusion that those who pretend to impartially judge are required to mitigate conflict of their own creation.

I occupy the factual, moral, legal, determination and intellectual high ground in this matter. My position is, from the perspective of those who wish to enslave and prey on their fellow human beings, subversive, since the facts clearly demonstrate to your minions that they are caught in a position of cognitive dissonance, conflict between what true law and their morality and humanity demands versus what their political/career survival demands. They are little “Eichmann’s”, obviously working against their own survival interests, cogs in a Machiavellian agenda that is beyond their comprehension. My hands are clean, the state’s are dripping with the blood of destroyed families and abused children.

The only moral wrong I do is that I intend to represent the ideas and proven knowledge of the moral/intellectual giants whose shoulders I stand on as my own, for the simple reason that they are dead and cannot protest when their knowledge is misrepresented and twisted to suit the purposes of manipulative liars and tyrants. I can present the evidence and prove my points down to basic, irrefutable principles, for any who choose to pay attention. Should I fail to influence the states claimed “necessary” criminal behavior; the next person/group will learn from my unlikely mistakes and build on my work. Failing this, the social class deemed terrorists (freedom fighters) will win for the simple reason that the predatory costs and loss of freedom required to support the state’s insane police state reaction to legitimate demands for freedom and human rights will create ten domestic “terrorists” for every one killed/imprisoned. On the present course, nuclear war seems inevitable, in pursuit of “elite” interests and dwindling resources. The only way out of the artificially created mess our civilization is in is to restore the “rule of law” and the “live and let live”, tolerance of differences, intolerance of force/fraud values it enforces. This is what I want and, at the end of the day is the only choice that will ensure survival of our civilization, species and perhaps, life on earth. There is no morally neutral ground; civilization (mutually agreed trade, peaceful co-existence) is incompatible with forceful or fraudulent methods of goal seeking by any person or group, by any pretext. It is the function of the law to suppress criminals, not form mutually profitable symbiotic relationships with criminals at the expense of civilization and peaceful social order as the facts of this matter so clearly demonstrates.

Whether you believe it or not, there is a perfect storm of social/economic, environmental collapse about to hit all of us. Our “elites” are responding by stealing as much as they can and appear to be willing to sacrifice a large percentage of humanity to war, pestilence and ignorance, as if it is their choice. I disagree; the cause of our woes is an easily addressed basic lie, or falsely framed partial truth:

The laws of nature are cruel (suppressed truth: only if you deny or try to disobey them). The chickens of strategic denial are coming home to roost for our entire civilization and species.

We need another Renaissance, re-acceptance of the proven fact that, independent of contrary opinion, nature's laws of action leading to consequence (knowledge = ability to predict) is what determines final outcomes, independent of how one may feel about it. I can see zero difference between rule by dogmatic clergy in the dark ages and rule by pseudo scientific mythology represented by fraudulent "experts" in various intellectual fields claiming unsubstantiated opinion as knowledge, tolerated by the ill advised faith of populations who have been mis-educated and propagandized to be unable to think critically or acknowledge proven facts. In both cases, the remedy is the same, the throwing off of ignorance and thwarting of those who believe they are able to rule inherently free people. I cannot possibly enumerate all I know and can prove in this brief submission, suffice to say, all that I know and can prove will be used to destroy all who stand in the way of my lawful goals, which are freedom, self-determination and being left alone, for ALL people. To the charge of arrogance: I am just a messenger, using the power of fact, knowledge and reason to express proven truth. I may not prevail, but nature's irresistible laws of action leading to consequence will. The only unknown is the escalating final cost of continued ignorance and denial we must all pay. To the charge of anarchist: My experiences and the facts of this matter indicate that the courts and state do not consider themselves bound by any fact, reason or law, making them anarchists. I do follow one rule: Except as defensive reaction to aggression against self and family, don't hurt anyone and all rules that logically follow.

Lofty, utopian dreams aside, I am a practical person and must restrict my efforts to what is achievable by me and what I have been able to plan, organize and anticipate. There are far too many people, such as my ex-wife whom have become addicted to dependency by corrupt, illegal state policies, who must be gradually weaned and re-learn the necessity of self-sufficiency and contributing to society as survival methods. Whether this is managed in an intelligent, compassionate way while we still have social/economic resources or is achieved abruptly by natural forces collapsing unsustainable states in strategic denial of reality is to be debated by future historians, should any survive the machinations of the current elite/financial/political/legal/meddling/bureaucratic/chattering classes.

In the interests of maintenance of social order and to allow the new Conservative government the benefit of a doubt (my major woes occurred under the watch of Liberals and their corrupt/divisive/illegal policies), plus to provide an opportunity to act in a positive manner to achieve common interest goals, given the minority government situation, I am willing to mitigate my demands to the following, if they are met in a timely, zero hassle manner. I am not willing to compromise beyond this:

My "Bottom Line" Demands:

- $Thirty Five Million Dollars for myself.
- $Five Million Dollars immediately invested in trust for each daughter, maturing (payable to them) when they reach thirty years of age.
- $Five Hundred Thousand Dollars in trust for my ex-wife, to be jointly managed by my daughters.
- Drop all considered/current legal charges, social services repayment demands against my poor manipulated ex-wife. She was a pawn, but a willing one, chasing false, illegal promises of irresponsibility and survival without effort. She was confronted with a system which encouraged presenting lies to the court and manipulating/abusing her daughters appeared to be more profitable than working and contributing to society. The same antisocial/illegal behavior was shared by her lawyer, psychiatrist and courts.
- Put ex-wife on lifetime modest pension with full medical/dental, addiction treatment.
- Lifetime exemption for myself from income, property, sales taxes or reporting requirements.
- Change laws to prevent legal aid from being used for offensive purposes or any non-criminal matter. Note that, in order to qualify for legal aid during divorce proceedings, it was a qualification requirement that my ex-wife allege abuse by myself. Some judges have publicly stated that, when confronted with unproven allegations of abuse, they do not dare award parental rights to the alleged "abuser".
- Change laws to exempt children's University Scholarships from bankruptcy proceedings.
- Change (make compliant with true law) divorce laws to define marriage as a partnership between equal persons in pursuit of shared goals, repeal "no-fault" divorce laws, pre-nuptial agreements are legally inviolate, subject to mutually agreed amendment over time, joint custody, equal time, decision power with each parent, no child support payable to other parent unless proposed paying parent is unwilling / provably unable to care for children properly. This will allow children to see the consequences/differences between each parent's choices/values so they can learn and choose personal responsibility in life, contributing to overall growth of civilization and mutual survival.
- Police investigation and criminal charges if merited of my ex-wife's lawyer and psychiatrist for perjury, uttering false documents, obstruction of justice, abuse of process, falsifying court orders, defrauding Legal Aid and OHIP by charging them for representing lies to the court, being accessories to child abuse and any other crimes that may come to light. Punitive damages totaling all assets and insurance of above individuals to the state in partial repayment of this settlement. Stripping these two individuals of all professional credentials to remove hazards to society. Garnishment of their future earnings to pay for cost of state support of my ex-wife due to their abuse of authority and manipulating her to falsely allege abuse, tricking her into falsely claiming victimhood, destroying her personal responsibility and manipulating her to behave in a manner which precluded her from attempting to address her problems or taking her rightful position as parent to her daughters who are now irredeemably estranged.

- All reparations above are tax free or after tax for the recipients.
- If these terms are met, I am willing to sign a non-disclosure agreement which becomes null and void if the legislative initiatives demanded are not in place within five years of settlement or if the police investigation and court proceedings are less than diligent. It is morally acceptable to me if I achieve the above changes, placing us all on the correct moral/legal path in the small but crucial matter of treating children properly and allowing children to have stable/secure childhoods.

You will note that the demands above are a very small fraction of what this will cost the state in treasure and credibility should we come to legal blows and these matters achieve public awareness. They are also a small fraction of the annual social savings due to domestic conflict reduction, once it is accepted that spouses are equal (in terms of rights and responsibilities) before the law at divorce (and all other times) and whining/lying for legal/financial advantage will not be tolerated (currently encouraged) by the courts. I believe the above is what I can convince the courts to do (by giving the judiciary the simple alternatives of agreeing or writing a judgment in disagreement which I shall refute and defy). I can easily refute any contrary opinion (rationalizations) and am willing to defy and risk my life, or failing that, influence the public to demand it or, failing that, use my incarceration and this absurd situation to demonstrate how completely discredited, antisocial, legally and morally bankrupt the state and court's position has been. Should the state decline a quiet settlement, I will be demanding from the court a large multiple of the demands in the settlement offer above. The litigation path will also open the class action possibility. Imagine, "residential schools" times many thousands.

In the event that it is considered an acceptable trade to ignore this and not pursue my refusal to file personal tax returns, my response, should the deadline below not be met is to inform my fellow citizens that, as they suspect, tyrants cannot stand the light of truth and cowardly scurry away when confronted. I will simply publish the basic truth that it is possible to defy authority and live to tell the tale. Whatever percentage of my fellow citizens are in possession of objective intelligence will be very interested in this fact. I will keep you in the dark about what lurks and the degree of support I have should this matter not be resolved to my and true law's satisfaction.

Oh, BTW and FYI, this and previous correspondence is on the Internet, for all to see, if and when it becomes necessary to call this and other evidence to the public's attention:

You should also be aware that my ex-wife has given me all of her legal records and signed permission to place this material in the public domain. A minor gem in this material is that my fellow taxpayers paid more in legal aid to my ex-wife's lawyer than any amount of support that could have been extorted from myself even if I had not been forced to quit my career to defend my daughters, further proving my basic point that this is a mammoth state fraud, a small example of many frauds, where all benefits accrue to corrupt "insiders" and all costs/negative consequences are borne by myself, daughters and fellow citizens.

Further, my daughters are now of majority age, very articulate, eager to share their experiences to help other children avoid similar experiences, as frustrated with this pointless situation as I. My daughters also agree that these matters are long overdue for critical public scrutiny. In addition, all submissions to court are by definition in the public domain.

My goals in this matter are very achievable. Despite determined state opposition, I have already succeeded in raising my daughters properly. They are safe and will be self-sufficient and able to defend themselves from predators, if necessary. Now I will reiterate (re-prove) the well-known and historically proven point that it is impossible to get ANYTHING (make a profit) from me or any determined person without honest, mutually agreed trade. Trying will cost far more than any possible gain. The biggest problem is those who choose to incur the cost (the state) of trying to enslave their fellow human beings are not those who pay the cost (my fellow citizens). This is a decoupling of action from consequence or, the creation of an environment where those who make the rules make them for their benefit at the expense of all others, or, legislated irresponsibility backed by force.

The state believes it is flush with information technology and other technological tools which have altered the historically (and legally) established balance of power between individuals and organized force. You forget that those who conceive and design such tools are far more competent than those who merely use them. Speaking for myself, I severely resent the fact that the fruits of my past labors which were intended to make life better for everyone are instead used as weapons against the people and freedom. Even if all people who are smart enough to advance knowledge are collectively destroyed, it will not take the people long to realize that the tools of their oppression and those who wield them must be destroyed, also by reason of self-defense.

I do not place myself in such illustrious company, but if the intellectual greats whose discovery of the moral/social/economic/legal and scientific knowledge which once formed the basis of operation of our civilization (legal enforcement of proven knowledge – the true assignment of action to consequence) and collective survival had been subject to the same predatory behavior, had their time and energy (equals life) wasted in pointless conflict with those who create and feed from conflict and faced the same life sucking harpies and minions I have and do, we would still be living in caves. The basic truth is, we are well into what I consider an intellectual dark age which can only get darker on the present course.

You have thirty days to accept the above offer, in legally binding form, from the date below. Failure to do so voids this offer and informs me it is time to escalate until it is realized that the state, the judiciary and all bureaucratic harpies in opposition lose far more by disagreeing than agreeing. You are public servants (employees of the people) and you will serve MY will which is also the will of: my fellow citizens (except those whom have been subverted/organized/entrapped to believe their survival depends on enslaving or exploiting their fellows), all peoples throughout recorded history and true, uncorrupted LAW which enforces the freedom our ancestors paid such a high price for. If this pointless war for suppressed truth and freedom against idiotic despots must be re-fought, the cost will be our civilization and perhaps species survival, given the genocidal weapons we have foolishly provided to those who believe they possess the divine right to rule and exploit inherently free people.
